Strategic Leadership And Decision Making
Faculty: Ms. Priya

Answer All Questions

- How can leaders balance the need for speed and adaptability in agile decision-making with the need for inclusivity and collaboration in participative decision-making, particularly in fast-paced and rapidly changing environments?

- How can leaders effectively balance rational decision-making with intuitive decision-making, and what tools or frameworks can they use to support this process, particularly in complex and rapidly changing business environments?

- How can a company leverage the OODA Loop framework to quickly respond to changes in its competitive environment, and what role can SWOT analysis play in identifying strengths and weaknesses to inform its strategic decisions?

- How can leaders balance the need to lower barriers to entry and promote innovation with the need to maintain necessary protections, such as intellectual property rights and quality standards, in a rapidly changing industry?

- How can companies like Amazon and Google sustain a culture of strategic thinking and innovation, and what role do leaders like Satya Nadella and Jeff Bezos play in promoting continuous learning and growth within their organizations?